FOREWORD

NINE years ago the Nigeria Year Book came to life. It has been a successful venture and we believe it will continue to be so.

For it fulfills a need in Nigeria—the need for a cheap, handy reference book on a country which is as complicated as any other in the world!

It is the only guide of its kind to the facts and figures of Nigeria.

It records all the important events of the past year, the changes in the political set-up and the work carried out in 1959 by the more important boards and corporations in the country.

The election to the Federal House of Representatives, which passed the Independence motion at its first sitting in January this year, was an historic one. You will find the full facts inside.

The election meant a great change-round in the organisation of the regional Governments too. You will find all the details inside.

There have been many other changes because of Nigeria's rapid development which are ALL recorded inside.

THE Year Book is published by the Nigerian Printing and Publishing Company through its commercial printing department, the Times Press.

It has been a year of change for the Company. In September, the Prime Minister opened the new extension of the company's plant in Kakawa Street.

The Times Press was on the move too. It has just established itself with a magnificent, fully up-to-date printing plant in Apapa.

The Company publishes the "Daily Times", the "Sunday Times" and the "TV Times" and also produces the weekly "Sporting Record."

THE year 1960 will be another time of change for Nigeria—so we propose to keep in the fashion.

We plan to completely re-style the Year Book to make it a really suitable "housing" for the facts about 1960.

INDEPENDENCE BIBLE

The occasion of Nigeria's Independence is marked by the publication of a special edition of the ever popular Amethyst Text Bible. This special edition has been named the Independence Bible, and may be obtained from any bookseller. Notable features of the Independence Bible include a newly-written Foreword giving a concise history of the Anglican Church in Nigeria, a frontispiece portrait of Bishop Samuel Crowther and a beautiful colour picture of Lagos Cathedral.

INDEPENDENCE YEAR

TEN years after the turn of the century Nigeria enters a new era just as ten years after the turn of the last century a new day dawned in the land. For it was in 1861 that Lagos was ceded to the British Crown to mark the effective beginning of the colonial era. This year an end will come to that 99-year lease of British political sovereignty and power.

But the story is not quite as brief as this.

For many years after the cession of Lagos the greater part of Nigeria remained in the wilderness of slavery and human sacrifice. The British administrator confined himself to the task of stopping the slave trade and the missionary, at the risk of his life, spread the gospel.

The Nigerian peoples themselves, cherishing their own institutions and their native freedoms, such as they were in their own understanding, put up a fight to sustain their sovereignty. The City of Benin was not taken in 1897 without "spirited fighting with the defenders" and the Sultan of Sokoto to whom the British were unbelievers did not but strike a blow in the belief that "between you and us there is nought but war as God has commanded it."

However, by 1900 the superior forces of the British had won the day and on January 1 of that year the Protectorate of Northern and Southern Nigeria was proclaimed.

It was at this date that the constitutional struggle which culminates in independence this year really began.

In 1907 Sir Walter Egerton who had been Governor of Lagos (1905) became Governor of Southern Nigeria with the North still under the charge of Sir (later Lord) Frederick Lugard who had conquered it. But by 1910 there was already in existence a legislative council of Nigeria, and in 1914, just before the outbreak of the First World War, the North and the South were amalgamated by proclamation, with Lord Lugard as first Governor-General and Commander-in-Chief.

The war which lasted until 1918, however, provided a break and constitutionally the country remained at standstill with the development of an effective government difficult to organise. Soon after the war the constitutional march was renewed with increased vigour and in 1922 a new constitutional instrument was granted, providing for a legislative council with an official majority with four elected members, three representing the Colony of Lagos and one the municipality of Calabar.

Again there was a political lull. Sir Hugh Clifford who had himself introduced the 1922 constitution expressed doubt about the capacity and capability of the Nigerian to rule his own country and rebuked the excesses and claims of such politicians as dared to suggest that self-government was desirable. To him such politicians, among them the late Herbert Macaulay and Eric O. Moore, were coastal agitators who depended even for their existence on British magnanimity. But even Sir Hugh said again and again that some day the hour might come when the Nigerian might be trusted with the administration of his own affairs. When — that was the question.

Sir Graham Thompson became Governor in 1926 and remained until 1930 without much to the credit of his administration. When Sir Donald C. Cameron took over in that year the country was in financial distress, and Sir Donald remains best known in Nigeria as the Governor who left his own son without a job because retrenchment was one of the major answers to the country's economic problems. He governed the country until 1936 without a single major political concession, although it was in his time that the agitation for home-rule became the concern of the younger generation with Professor Eyo Ita saying that the day belonged to the Nigerian youth—"he must shape it according to his own desires."

From 1937 through most of the Second World War, Sir Bernard Bourdillon was Governor. In his time the Nigerian Youth Movement came into the forefront of the political struggle and a new wave of nationalism fermented. If that nationalism did not break into a violent expression to convince the British about the coming of a new era, it was at least sufficient to show Sir Bernard that the time had come for some constitutional progress. The records have it that between him and the Colonial Office there were exchanges of notes and that indeed, it was as a result of his recommendation that the 1945 Constitution came into being.

But by 1943 Sir Bernard had already done an extended tour and it was left to Sir Arthur Richards (later Lord Milverton of Lagos and Clifton) to introduce the constitution which Sir Bernard had worked out. Unfortunately the time coincided with the end of the war, with new enlightenment and a new resolve on the part of the Nigerian to share in the freedoms for which, on the side of Britain, he had fought. As a result of a series of events needless to enumerate here, the National Council of Nigeria and the Cameroons was formed in 1944 and in 1945 the General Strike went on for 44 days.

It was the beginning of the struggle for political power.

The 1945 Constitution did not last. In 1946 the N.C.N.C. sent a delegation to the United Kingdom, but was told to "go home and co-operate" In 1947, however, the new Governor of Nigeria, Sir John Macpherson, thought that Nigerians had done so well with the constitutional concessions granted them that they deserved to take yet another step forward. If the complaint against the 1945 Constitution had been that the people were not consulted before its promulgation, he would consult the people right from the village level.

As a result the Nigerian Constitutional Conference was held in Ibadan in 1950, the year in which the Northern Elements Progressive Union came into existence as a break-away from the Northern People's Congress which was formed the year before. The elections for the new Constitution, dated that year, were held in 1951. And the Action Group was announced as a political party.

The rest is no longer history.

Thenceforth the constitutional advancement of the country became rapid. By 1954 need for further constitutional progress had become marked, and in 1956 the motion for independence first came before the House of Representatives, moved by Chief Anthony Enahoro, of the Action Group. A constitutional crisis followed. Constitutional Conference became a feature of Nigerian politics, but with the co-operation of Mr. Oliver Lyttleton (now Lord Chandos) and later Mr. Alan Lennox-Boyd, now member of Select Group of, Companions of Honour, as Secretaries of State for the Colony, a compromise Federal Constitution was written for Nigeria and a compromise Government assured for the Federation for a long time.

One might now turn attention to the immediate past and the foreseeable future.

By far the most important singular event of 1959 was the Federal election, held on December 12, to elect 312 members of the House of Representatives (the eight seats allocated to Southern Cameroons not being contested because that territory had expressed the desire to opt out of the Nigerian Federation with which, since 1920, it has been administered by the U.K. as a mandate of the League of Nations and later as a United Nations Trusteeship).

For some time it was genuinely feared that the election might be violent such was its tempo. And, indeed, at the time of the election for the Lagos Town Council, which was generally regarded as a crucial pointer to what was to be expected, there was such marked violence that it became necessary for the Governor-General Sir James Robertson to broadcast his disapproval to the nation. But in the end the Federal election went so well that in his New Year broadcast the Governor-General admitted that "the quiet and orderly way in which the election took place on the twelfth of this month was a major triumph for all those who had planned it."

So much for the distant and the recent past. Except that it ought to be recorded that there was some difficulty in forming the Federal Government when once the election was over. Not one single party had won enough seats to form the Government alone, nor was there the desire to form another National Government. But in the end by patient and protracted negotiation the Northern People's Congress and the NCNC went into a new coalition, returning all of the members of the former Council of Ministers and appointing a few new ones.

Alhaji Abubakar Tafawa Balewa, who was later honoured with the K.B.E. in the New Year Honours, became Prime Minister of the Federation, automatically assigned the task of taking the nation to Independence.

COMPANY TAX

COMPANY Tax in its present form was imposed in Nigeria by the Income Tax Ordinance of 1943, taking effect from April 1, 1943.

Basis of Assessment. — Company tax is calculated and charged separately for each year of assessment, running from April 1 in one year to March 31 in the next. Normally the charge is calculated by reference to the income of the preceding year. But to avoid undue delay in the collection of tax when a business commences and to avoid undue prolongation of payment of tax when it ceases, provision is made for the assessment of tax in certain of the opening and closing years of a business of employment to be calculated by reference to the income of the year of assessment itself, and not that of the preceding year.

Capital Allowances — Liberal tax allowances are given for capital expenditure incurred for the purpose of a trade carried on in Nigeria. Expenditure which ranks for these allowances includes expenditure on the purchases of plant, machinery and fixtures and on the construction of buildings, structures and works of a permanent nature, and initial and development expenditure on mines and plantations.

For the year in which ranking expenditure on an asset is incurred, an initial allowance is made at the following rates:—

Plant	40 per cent.
Mines	25 per cent.
Industrial Buildings	20 per cent.
Plantations	25 per cent.

For the same year and for future years during which the asset is in use for the trade, annual allowances are given on the reduced balance of expenditure (i.e. the original expenditure less allowances made for previous years).

In total, therefore, a trader is given tax allowances equal to the net cost of an asset spread over the life of the asset.

Small Companies' Relief. — With effect from the year of assessment 1949-50, companies incorporated and controlled in Nigeria on or after April 1, 1944, are entitled to relief, where their profits do not exceed £1,000 per annum, of all tax for the first two years, of two-thirds of the tax for the next two years and of one-third of the tax for the fifth and sixth years. Where the profits are between £1,000 and £3,000, relief at a diminishing rate is given.

Pioneer Companies' Relief. — With a view to stimulating the development of new industries in Nigeria, an important and generous relief is given to "Pioneer Companies," i.e. companies which carry on a new industry which has been given a "pioneer certificate" by the Minister of Trade and Industry. The maximum relief given is a "tax holiday period" of five years, i.e. exemption from tax on profits for five years. This relief is alternative to the small companies relief.

Rate of Tax: 8s. in the £.

This information is a general outline only and precise details will be furnished on request to the Board of Inland Revenue, Lagos.

CENTRAL BANK

THE Central Bank of Nigeria was established under the Central Bank Ordinance which received Royal Assent on 15th May 1958. The Bank formally commenced operations a little over one year later when on 1st July 1959 the Prime Minister of the Federation, Alhaji Abubakar Tafawa Balewa, opened the Bank's new building in Lagos and the Governor-General of the Federation of Nigeria, Sir James Robertson, unveiled a commemorative plaque to mark the occasion.

The Bank's six-storey building is situated in Tinubu Square. It is a modern structure, is fully air-conditioned and is in all respects a most fitting building for a central bank.

Also on 1st July 1959 the Bank commenced to issue Nigeria's own currency which will eventually replace the West African Currency Board notes and coin which have been in circulation in the past. In addition to issuing the currency the Bank is charged with the responsibility of managing the currency so that it continues to command full confidence both in Nigeria and overseas.

The Central Bank Ordinance provides for the Bank to act as banker to the Federal Government for whom it will provide general banking and agency facilities. As the Bank is a Federal institution and its services are intended for the good of all of Nigeria, it expects to establish close working relations with the Regional Governments as well as with the Federal Government.

It will not be a function of the Central Bank to undertake normal banking business for private individuals or institutions and it will not conduct savings accounts.

In the general financial field the Bank will seek to establish conditions which will be most suitable for implementation of Government economic policies and which will help to promote a stable economy and sound financial structure. This will assist in attracting capital from local and overseas sources towards the costs of developing Nigeria's resources. In this connection the Central Bank, on behalf of the Federal Government, floated the Federation of Nigeria Development Loan for £2m in May 1959. The loan was over-subscribed by more than £800,000.

The Board of Directors of the Bank comprises Mr. R. P. Fenton, Governor; Mr. G. W. Keep, Deputy Governor; Chief F. O. Awosika, Mr. Chuba Ikpeazu, Mr. L. N. Namme, Chief J. A. Obahor and Malam Yaku-bu Wanka.

Mr. R. K. C. Giddings is General Manager and Dr. C. N. Isong is Secretary of the Bank.

Nigerian Broadcasting Corporation

SINCE its inception some four years ago the Nigerian Broadcasting Corporation has made giant strides forward in all directions.

Most spectacular of all is, perhaps, in the field of Nigerianisation. There are a sprinkling of expatriate officials here and there, but in the main, most departments are almost completely Nigerianised and there are more Nigerians in policy making positions than there are expatriates.

Progress made on all levels by the N.B.C. is based on a planned development programme.

This is aimed at improving the quality of programmes and the technical coverage of the service and of course, stepping up the pace of Nigerianisation.

All these objectives have been attained with great measure of success.

The Corporation's technical service has been expanded and improved by the addition of new and more powerful transmitters in the regions. In Lagos, extra recording channels have been provided to cope with the expanding commitments in the News Division.

An important change occurred this year in the Corporation's policy of news presentation. The N.B.C. has ceased to rely entirely on the B.B.C. for its coverage of international news.

News from abroad is drawn from various sources and incorporated in the NBC's bulletins together with significant news from Nigeria.

So there is no longer a "National" News Bulletin but simply THE NEWS. NEWS time on the air totals some 20 hours weekly.

Thirty four separate news bulletins are issued weekly in English and fifty four in the vernacular, in the N.B.C.'s regional and National Programmes.

The members of the Corporation's Board are:

The Rev. Dr. J. T. Ayorinde

Alhaji Haruna

Mr. O. Iheukumere

Dr. F. O. Dosekun

NIGERIAN COAL CORPORATION

THE total output from the mines operated by the Corporation during the twelve months ending on the 31st March, 1959, amounted to 905,397 tons which includes 20,046 tons produced from the new Ekulu Mine. The output is again a record production for the Corporation.

Coal exports amounted to 94,102 tons of which 94,092 tons were supplied to Ghana Railways.

The development of the new Ekulu Mine continues satisfactorily and much of the work is ahead of schedule. Permanent lighting has been installed for a considerable distance in No. 2 Drift. The overhead ropeway for transporting the coal between Ekulu and Iva Mine has been put into commission and is operating satisfactorily.

The Corporation is now faced with the immediate problem of over-production due to the use of diesel oil instead of coal by its major customers—the Nigerian Railway and Electricity Corporations and the Ghana Railways. It therefore became necessary for the Corporation to reduce its labour force and approximately 2,000 men have been laid off, majority by voluntary retirement.

The Corporation is actively exploring all possible markets for Nigerian Coal.

In the field of welfare and staff training, the Corporation has continued its activities and all employees and their families received free treatment and medicine at the Corporation sick bay which is run by a Medical Officer and qualified medical staff seconded from the Medical Department. It has all facilities for the treatment of out-patients. and sixteen beds for in-patients.

Three Nigerians are at present in the United Kingdom on Corporation Scholarship Awards and are pursuing courses in Surveying, Chartered Secretaryship and for First-Class (Colliery Manager's) Certificate of Competency. The latter student has obtained his First Class Certificate of Competency and will soon return to Nigeria. One student who has returned after a successful completion of his course in Personnel Management has been appointed Assistant Personnel Manager.

The Mining School run by the Corporation continued to do good work in giving Nigerian personnel the necessary theoretical training to enable them to pass the statutory Nigerian Second Class (Under Manager's) Certificate of Competency examination. The students receive practical training in the mines under the direction of experienced mining officials over a period of five years. One student passed the Second Class Certificate of Competency Examination held in May, 1959.

Board Members:

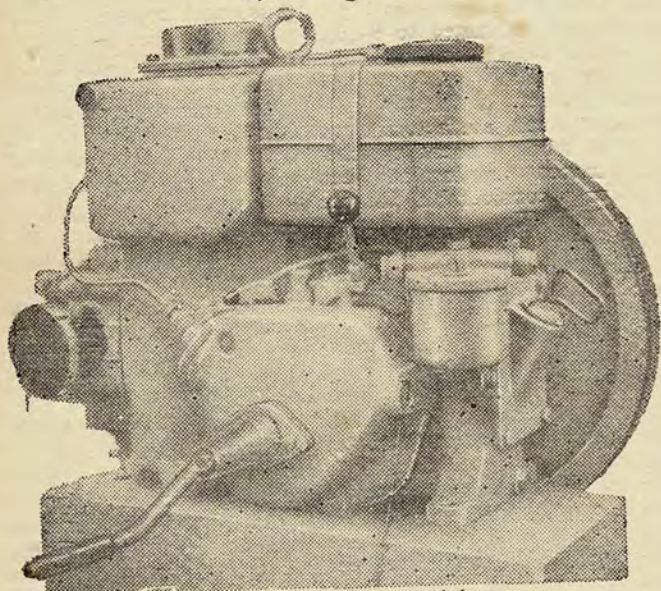

Chairman: C. C. E. Onoh; Members: L. P. Ojukwu, Chief Arthur Prest, Daniel Ogu, C. A. Dove, C. P. Thompson, R. K. Innes and G. C. Nonyelu.

The general manager is Mr. B. W. Baron.

SIX HORSES FOR £85

Wherever there is work needing a reliable, trouble-free power unit, this soundly engineered stationary diesel engine is the answer.

NIGERIAN RAILWAY CORPORATION

THE 1958/59 financial year was a good year for the Nigerian Railway Corporation, for not only was the revenue the best for any single year, but records were also created in terms of effort and output.

Operating revenue for the financial year ended the 31st March 1959 was a record at £15,750,000, a figure which exceeded the earnings of the previous best year, 1956/57, by almost £1,500,000 million.

A record figure of 3,097,000 tons, a greater tonnage than ever before, was carried over the railway system during 1958/59. This compares with the corresponding tonnage in 1957/58 of 2,739,000 tons. Passenger receipts were somewhat disappointing; 7,015,340 passengers were carried compared with 7,863,183 in the previous year.

The results would have been substantially better had it not been for an intensification of road transport competition which was evident in the latter half of the year. Heavy losses were sustained on some classes of traffic attracted away from the railway by cheaper rates and a quicker, door-to-door, service.

Working expenses have continued to rise for many years, a trend that continued during 1958/59, and at £13,720,000 left a net surplus on the years working of a little over £2 million.

In the light of rising operating costs, railway rates and fares were increased from the 1st July 1958. These increases undoubtedly encouraged customers to seek an alternative form of transport.

Work on the capital development programme for existing lines reached its peak in 1958/59 when the total expenditure amounted to £7,800,000. Of this sum £3,700,000 was drawn from a loan of £10,000,000 made available by the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development to the Federal Government of Nigeria.

During the year work commenced on the projected 400 miles extension of the railway to Maiduguri in Bornu Province.

Officers of the Corporation are: Chairman—Sir Ralf Emerson; General Manager—Mr. R. K. Innes; Secretary to the Corporation—Mr. P. A. Carbines; Chief Superintendent—Mr. S. Davis; Chief Engineer—Mr. A. I. Webber-Jones; Chief Mechanical Engineer—Mr. G. H. Binnie; Chief Accountant—Mr. F. Sander; Chief Medical Officer—Dr. J. Dryden; Controller of Stores—Mr. A. F. Lewis; Assistant General Manager (Staff)—Mr. N. A. Kuforiji; Assistant General Manager (Works)—Mr. F. A. O. Phillips.

Besides Sir Ralf Emerson and Mr. R. K. Innes, who are ex-officio members of the Corporation, the other members are: Chief A. O. Fagbenro Beyioku, Mr. L. C. Daldry, Mr. C. A. Dove; Mr. H. P. NIGERIAN PORTS AUTHORITY

IN this, the year of Nigeria's Independence, the Nigerian Ports Authority will complete five years of continuous and rapid development in Nigeria's main ports, making facilities and equipment available comparable with those of the world's major ports.

The Nigerian Ports Authority has two main responsibilities. It has to ensure that the ports of Nigeria provide a safe harbour for the ships that use them, and to efficiently handle the import and export cargoes which pass through them.

Since the completion of the Apapa Wharf Extension, the Authority has continued to provide additional facilities for all port users. A second produce warehouse with a capacity of 15,000 tons has recently been completed.

At Customs Quay, the Authority has undertaken an extensive reconstruction programme which is now nearing completion. Land at both ends of the quay has been reclaimed, a new through road has been constructed.

As a result of capital dredging, it is hoped by the end of Independence

Year, vessels drawing 30 feet will be able to enter Lagos Harbour; this automatically will increase the carrying capacity of all ships calling at Lagos.

The Port Harcourt Wharf Extension it is hoped will also be completed this year. This will provide three new deep water berths together with transit sheds, a warehouse, new offices, Customs and preventative buildings and improved road and rail facilities.

Principal Officers are:

Mr. C. A. Dove, M.B.E., Chairman; Mr. L. A. Taylor, M.B.E., Deputy General Manager; Mr. F. J. Ivimey, Assistant General Manager; Mr. A. R. Cordon, Secretary to the Authority; Mr. C. F. D. Wallace, Chief Traffic and Comm. Manager; Mr. F. Higginbottom, Chief Engineer; Captain W. J. Knight, O.B.E.; Chief Harbour Master; Mr. E. S. Williams, O.B.E., Personnel Manager; Mr. F. W. Harvey, Chief Accountant.

NIGERIAN AIRWAYS

NIGERIAN Airways is now more than one year old and the new name is fast becoming a household word, springing as easily to the tongue as did "W.A.A.C." in the years that went before.

The new company has successfully come through 1959 despite quite a number of the inevitable teething troubles which are usually associated with changes such as the inception of W.A.A.C. (Nigeria) Ltd. in October 1958, on the liquidation of the former West African Airways Corporation.

Quite the most outstanding event of the year was the introduction in April of the "Britannia" turbo-jet airliner on the Lagos/London route. Nigerian Airways operate this route in pool partnership with B.O.A.C. under a charter agreement in which B.O.A.C. provide aircraft and crew.

The later departure of the "Britannia" as against the timing of the "Stratocruiser" which formerly operated the international services, has proved very popular with both travellers and their friends alike, though the passing of the somewhat unique "Strat" with its flying boat like bar lounge on the lower deck was viewed with regret by some at the outset.

However, the increased speed of the Britannia with its added spaciousness and weather radar equipment has more than compensated for the loss of the bar lounge.

The frequency of Nigerian Airways' services to London was increased in April to three services a week. The introduction of this third service brought in Barcelona as an added attraction for the stopover enthusiast of whom there are many these days — and with the idea of picking up a new car in Europe en-route in either Italy or Germany becoming increasingly popular, the requirements of all types can be said to be met on the route.

There have been some minor changes in the Nigerian domestic services, though basically the route pattern has remained the same even though frequency of services has in some instances been reduced. The "West Coast" service operated in pool partnership with Ghana Airways has continued as a twice weekly service operating Lagos-Accra-Abidjan - Robertsfield - Freetown - Bathurst-Dakar, with a once weekly call at Conakry.

The aircraft used by Nigerian Airways for its services in West Africa are twenty-eight seater D.C.3's, and fourteen seater de Havilland Herons. The company also has one de Havilland Dove which is on charter to the Federal Survey Department.

Maintenance of all Nigerian Airways aircraft is carried out by the company's own engineering staff at Lagos Airport and a considerable amount of engineering work is also carried out for most of the major airlines operating through Lagos and Kano.

The company's Nigerian stewardesses, who on completion of their initial course were put into service on the domestic routes, were sent to England for a "Britannia" course in May. They returned in August having completed an extensive "finishing off" course with B.O.A.C. and they were introduced on the international services in October operating initially between Lagos and Kano only. It is anticipated that they will be operating right through to London early in 1960.

Nigerian Airways has a London Office at 32 New Bond Street which deals with multitudinous enquiries, although they do not take bookings. British Overseas Airways Corporation act as the Company's Sales Agent both throughout the United Kingdom and Continental Europe.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

THE inception of the College derives from the Commissions, appointed in 1943 and reporting in 1945, under the Chairmanship of Mr. Walter Elliot and Mr. Justice Asquith. Students were first received in January 1948. Instruction was given in temporary wooden buildings situated some six miles away from the present site.

On November 17, 1948, Mr. A. Creech-Jones, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, cut the first sod on the present site. In 1952, Lord Tedder, Chancellor of the University of Cambridge, opened formally the first permanent buildings and since then the College has gradually moved from the old site.

The main buildings erected on the site so far include five Halls of Residence. These provide accommodation for both undergraduates and certain senior members of staff. There is a Library which seats about 300 readers and is capable of holding a quarter-of-a-million volumes; Trenchard Hall is used for University gatherings, general assembly, examinations and social activities.

From its inception till 1954 the College was governed by a Provisional Council.

On October 1, 1954 a new Ordinance came into effect providing an enlarged Council representative of the several Regions to control its finances and govern its activities.

The present members of the council are: Sir Francis Ibiham (Chairman); the Principal of the college; the Vice-Principal; Deputy Governor-General of the Federation;

Sir Kofo Abayomi, Mr. E. E. Esua, Malam Umar Sulaiman, Emir of Bedde, Mr. R. E. Ellison, Malam Ahmadu Coomassie, Dr. O. Ikejiani, Dr. J. B. C. Okala, Mr. M. A. Ogun, Chief T. T. Solaru, Professor C. W. L. Bevan, Professor P. J. Collard, Mr. Ayo Ogunshye, Sir Arthur Thompson Professor C. W. Wardlaw, Mr. Justice L. N. Mbanefo and the Registrar of the College.

The Academic and Administrative staff of the College numbers 208, its junior staff about 1,520 and its undergraduates 1,004 (68 women). Many of the undergraduates hold College Scholarships and State Bursaries. Others are sponsored by various organisations.

The College has 22 academic departments constituting the Faculties of Arts, Science, Medicine, Agriculture & Veterinary Science, and Engineering. In addition, there is the Department of Extra-Mural Studies and the Institute of Education.

Members of the Senate for the current year are: The Principal, Dr. K. Dike, Professors R. H. Harback, N. S. Alexander, P. J. Collard, R. J. Mellory, O. A. Ajose, C. W. L. Bevan, A. Brown, W. W. Davey, G. M. Edington, J. Ferguson, A. D. Galloway, B. J. Garrier, Kathleen Geoghegan, Molly M. Mahood, I. Njoku, A. Smith, J. E. Webb, the Librarian, the Director of Extra Mural Studies, Doctors F. O. Sosekun, S. H. Irvine, Constance L. H. Alexander, J. E. Edoziem, J. B. Lawson, H. Schnieden, The Secretary and Registrar.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE HOSPITAL

NIGERIA'S University College Hospital, Ibadan, has arrived to stay. Apart from a substantial increase in medical students during the year, nurses in training, pupil midwives and student laboratory technicians have also increased in number.

In October 1959, 31 medical students entered the Teaching Hospital from the University College thus bringing the total number of clinical students at the Hospital to 81. The first batch of medical students — 20 altogether — are due to qualify in October 1960, a month which will remain unique in the annals of the medical history of West Africa.

The School of Nursing continues to do well in the S.R.N. examination. This year 44 students of the school passed it. Thus the total number of students who have passed this universally recognised nursing examination since the school started seven years ago stands at 207.

Plans to establish a Domiciliary Midwifery centre at Ibadan for the training of midwives up to the standards acceptable to the Central Midwives Board of Great Britain are well in hand. To this end, the Educational Supervisor of the Board; Miss Z. M. Goodhall, visited the hospital in May to inspect and advise on the facilities available for Midwifery training at the Hospital.

During the year also, another important land mark was reached by the University College Hospital in the training of post-graduate doctors. The hospital's Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology headed by Dr. J. B. Lawson was recognised by the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists for training for membership of the College. This followed an inspection visit to the Hospital in May by two eminent obstetricians from the College, Mr. H. G. E. Arthure of Charing Cross Hospital, London, and Dr. D. McKay Hart of Stobhill Hospital, Glasgow.

Commenting on the inspection visit, the two obstetricians said; "We are very satisfied with the result of the inspection which is better than we had reason to hope for."

Two years ago the Hospital's Department of Anaesthetics was also recognised for training of medical post graduates for higher qualification by the Faculty of Anaesthetics of the Royal College of Surgeons (England).

For the first time since the University College Hospital was established, four Nigerian youngmen who trained as laboratory technicians at the hospital have qualified as laboratory technologists, having passed the Associate Membership of the Institute of Laboratory Technicians, examination held in Britain in June this year. Two of them have since returned to join the staff of the Hospital on the senior grade.

The pace of Nigerianisation at the hospital has been more spectacular this year than ever before. This is a direct result of the return to the Institution of a number of qualified indigenous persons who have been away in Britain on the Hospital Board's scholarship, studying for various hospital senior appointments. These include a hospital administrator, a medical records officer, an engineer and two nursing sisters - who now hold high administrative and teaching posts at the Hospital.

Three Nigerian girls who trained as nurses at the University College School of Nursing have also been promoted during the year to the grade of Nursing Sisters. More of such promotions are anticipated in the near future.

The present staff of the 500-bed University College Hospital number 1,700. Of this figure, there are 68 doctors (excluding 37 consultants and professors on the staff of U.C.I., 36 administrative and technical senior officers, approx. 120 nursing sisters, sisters tutors, and staff nurses, and 41 senior members of the medical auxilliary departments.

More than at any other time the University College Hospital was privileged to pay host to a number of eminent guests during the year. These included among others the Prime Minister of Ghana, Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, and a number of his ministers — whose visit was most unique judging by the spontaneous welcome accorded him by patients and staff alike; Mr. H. Allan Lennox-Boyd, then the Colonial Secretary, and Lord Perth, Minister of State for the Colonies, and Lady Perth.

The composition of the University College Hospital Board of Management remains unchanged with Sir Kofo Abayomi and Mr. G. C. M. Onyiuke as Chairman and Deputy Chairman respectively. Other members include; Alhaji Saudu Alanamu; Dr. J. Akanni Doherty; Mallam Sulemanu Barau, Emir of Abujah; Dr. A. E. Mba; Dr. Kenneth Dike, (Principal U.C.I.); Dr. J. B. Lawson, Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology; Professor M. Davey Department of Surgery; Professor A. Brown, Department of Medicine; Professor O. A. Ajose, Department of Preventive and Social Medicine; Dr. C. M. Norman-William, Chief Medical Adviser; Dr. J. C. Edozien, Department of Pathology; The Permanent Secretary, Federal Ministry of Health; Mr. P. M. Kale and Mr. I. S. Adewale, a Lagos lawyer.

PRINCIPAL OFFICERS are: G. Parker, House Governor; Col. J. B. Robertson, Deputy House Governor; J. F. Dawson, Establishment and Training Officer; W. S. Tyndall, Chief Engineer; Dr. K. M. Cobban, Senior Hospital Medical Officer; Miss L. F. R. Richmond, Matron; Miss I. W. C. Fimister, Principal Sister Tutor; F. A. Calisto, Principal Pharmacist; Mr. D. R. Oduaran, Administrator and Mr. L. E. Scott-Emuakpor, Public Relations Officer.

Nigerian College of Arts Science and Technology

THE Nigerian College of Arts Science and Technology is a tripartite institution with its headquarters at Zaria and academic branches at Enugu, Ibadan and Zaria.

The College was established by Ordinance No. 12 of 1952, which was brought into operation in June 1953. The conception of the College springs from the minority report of the Elliot Commission, subsequently endorsed by the Hamilton Fyfe delegation, both of which expressed the view that there was a need in Nigeria for facilities for higher education other than those coming within the scope of a university college.

The College has as its function the provision of facilities for higher technical and professional education for the whole of Nigeria in all professions except medicine. Entry to the College's professional courses is limited to students who are educationally qualified for advancing to full professional status.

In addition, the College has established intermediate courses at each of its branches of which the primary function is to provide a thorough basic training for students intending to proceed to professional courses in the College.

The College teacher's certificates with special reference to secondary schools and with special reference to teacher training and supervision are being awarded in consultation with the University of London Institute of Education.

In 1959 the University of London approved the agreement of the Council of the University College, Ibadan, with the Council of the Nigerian College for the establishment of a Faculty of Engineering at the Zaria Branch of the College.

Students are now able to take the B.Sc (Engineering) with special relationship with the University of London in the Faculty of Engineering.

The course has also been recognised for the joint Part One Examination of the Engineering Institutions. An application for the recognition of the Part Two, is now before the Institutions.

Courses in Secretaryship and Administration are recognised by the Chartered Institute of Secretaries.

Courses in Land Surveying have been recognised by the Council of the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors for the first professional and Intermediate examinations in the Land Surveying Division.

Students of the Department of Architecture are permitted to take the Intermediate examination of the Royal Institute of British Architects under their Special Overseas Scheme and similar permission has now been received for the final examination to be taken under the same condition.

The College now has a total student population of 1,125 in all the three branches, made up as follows:- Ibadan 425, Enugu 275, Zaria 475.

The course for the first professional examination in the Housing and Estate Management Valuation, Town and Country Planning and Quantity Surveying Division, has been recognised by the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors, and an application has been made for the recognition of the Course for the Intermediate examination.

A delegation from the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain has expressed its approval of the course in Pharmacy at Ibadan which is designed to be of the same standard as that for the Pharmaceutical Certificate in the U. K.

Courses in Accountancy have now been recognised by the Association of Certified and Incorporated Accountants. Students of the College with the required training coupled with approved periods of practical experience can now enter for the examinations of A.C.C.A.

The College course in Government and Administration has been approved by the University of Exeter and the Diploma will be awarded after an examination moderated and approved by the examiners appointed by the University.

ELECTRICITY CORPORATION

THE year 1959 has shown a continuation of the high rate of expansion of the previous years with the commissioning of 6,000 KW of new plant, and 41,800 KW under construction. 10,800 new consumers were connected during the year.

The civil works for the extension to the Ijora 'B' power station were completed towards the end of the year and the first new 30,000 KW is ready for commissioning. The second 20,000 KW set will be delivered and erected during 1960.

The construction of the 132 KV transmission line from Lagos to Ibadan, to afford bulk supply to the Ibadan area, has progressed and it is proposed to continue this line in the near future to supply the Oshogbo 33 KV network and growing complex of new undertakings. In the West, work has also started on the Warri/Sapele/Benin 33 KV system.

Rapid development in the main Northern towns has made it necessary to start the installation of yet another 900 KW set for Kaduna and to order a portable 900 KW set as an interim measure for Kano. A 132 KV transmission line link between Kano, Zaria and Kaduna is planned and may be completed in the later part of 1960.

Two possible schemes for large scale supply of hydro power initially capable of supplying Lagos, the Western Region and the main Northern towns are under detailed investigation. The first for a dam across the Niger River at Jebba Gorge will also involve improvements to navigation, irrigation and fisheries. The second is the damming of the Kaduna River at Shiroro Gorge.

In Eastern Nigeria work is well advanced on the first extension to Oji River Power Station with the installation of a 10,000 KW, Turbo-alternator and the second 10,000 KW set will be ordered shortly.

The addition of 4,400 KW of new plant in Port Harcourt and Aba was completed during the year, and a further two portable 900 KW set for Port Harcourt should be arriving shortly as an interim measure prior to the commissioning of the 20,000 KW Gas Turbine station at Afam, orders for which have been placed.

In addition to this very extensive expansion of existing stations and associated transmission and distribution systems the Corporation commenced its Small Towns Development Programme, the first stage of which includes the electrification of 27 new townships.

Members of the Board of the Corporation at the end of 1959 are Dr. Eni Njoku, (chairman): Malam Nuhu Bamali, Mr. Harvey P. Brace, Mr. H. Fajemirokun, Shettima Kashim, Waziri of Bornu, Chief A. O. Lawson, Mr. E. O. Lemon, Mr. S. A. Oshuntoye, Chief P. J. Osoba, Mr. M. N. Sabum, Mr. C. P. Thompson and Mr. T. A. Thompson.

MANAGEMENT

Mr. G. E. Wyatt, is Chief Executive Officer and General Manager of the Corporation. Mr. C. K. O. Adenaike, is the Acting Secretary to the Corporation.

BRITISH COUNCIL

THE British Council for Cultural Relations with other Countries was founded in 1934. It receives an annual grant from the British Government but its functions are entirely independent of Government's control, and its activities are strictly non-political. Its object is to promote an understanding of the British way of life and a knowledge of British achievement in the arts, sciences and social organisation. It is represented in sixty countries throughout the world, including British Colonies and the Dominions.

In Nigeria, the first office was opened in 1943, in Lagos, and later regional offices were opened in Ibadan, Enugu and Kano.

In the West and in the North, buildings have been provided by the Governments, and in Lagos, thanks to the generosity of the Federal Government in providing a substantial part of the cost, a cultural centre has been established at Yaba.

To each office is attached an extensive general and reference library and a centre where lectures, film shows, discussion groups, recital and exhibitions are held. Experts on special subjects are sent from Great Britain to lecture and make contact with their colleagues in Nigeria.

In addition to the Council's own Centres, British Council groups exist in most of the main towns of the Regions. These meet regularly for discussions, lectures, film shows and other activities and are visited periodically by the Council's regional officers.

The British Council in Great Britain is specifically responsible for the welfare of colonial students in the United Kingdom. It is the responsibility of the Council in Nigeria to give all necessary advice and information on living conditions in Great Britain to prospective students. Introduction courses for students are held in July, August and September at all offices.

From time to time the Council offers bursaries to Nigerians for short periods of study in Great Britain. They also organise on a paying basis study-tour visits for groups of individuals wishing to study British methods in the U.K.

The fee for British Council Centre membership is four shillings a year. This entitles the member to the use of the library and participation in activities in all four Centres in Nigeria.

Lagos Executive Development Board

THE Lagos Executive Development Board is an executive body statutorily created in 1948 under the Lagos Town Planning Ordinance (Cap. 103) and fulfils the dual role of planning and executive development authority within the township of Lagos. Of late it has assumed the additional role of a housing authority.

Composed of 21 members, the Board operates within the direction of the Federal Minister of Lagos Affairs, Mines and Power and under the chairmanship of Chief Sir Kofo Abayomi.

Executive control is in the hands of the Board's Chief Executive Officer, Mr. J. W. Henderson, who is supported by a staff of 25 expatriates and 162 Nigerians. The executive organisation includes sections for Planning Engineering, Land, Survey Estate Management, Law, Finance, Administration and Public Relations.

In planning control, the Board has started to implement a "Street Works Policy" which aims at arresting haphazard building development.

On the Board's 1,000 acre Apapa Estate which has now been completely leased to the public, there has been improvement in the rate of building. The first shopping parade is being initiated by a Board project of eighteen shops built on the Estate for sale to the public.

Further progress has been made with the Lagos Central Planning Scheme (slum clearance) involving so far the removal and rehousing of over 6,600 residents about 4,100 of whom have chosen to be rehoused on the Board's Suru-Lere Rehousing Estate. Under this scheme, parts of Broad Street, Balogun Street, and Martins Street have been widened and reconstructed and Victoria Street is under similar operation.

As the scheme progresses more and more plots are being re-allocated to the original owners but in the case of the residential plots rebuilding rate has been slow in spite of a mortgage assistance scheme introduced by the Federal Government.

Under a balanced development programme operated by the Board, a number of modern housing estates are growing up in the Suru-Lere area. They are the "Rehousing Estate", the "Lagos Housing Scheme," a low cost housing estate which gives permanent accommodation to the lower income group of workers on subsidized rent; the Board's "Itire Road Estate" which provides developed land for freehold sale to the public, and the Board's series of "Freehold Housing Schemes" through which houses of various designs and costs are built and sold on freehold basis to the public either outright or with mortgage assistance supplied by the Nigeria Building Society. Over 260 of those houses have been sold and occupied and several more are under construction.

A second scheme for developing more land in this area has been approved by the Federal Government and the project is already in hand.

Two new major reclamation and development works have been undertaken by the Board and a third will commence shortly.

The South-West Ikoyi/Obalende Scheme—a 250 acre project which is to provide developed land for sale to the public. A new road which under this scheme is to link Bourdillon Road with Onikan should be completed by August this year and a new bridge being built over MacGregor Canal should also be completed by February this year.

The second reclamation project—the 1,500 acre Victoria Island Development Scheme—is being undertaken in stages. The immediate project is the reclamation and site development of a portion of the district to provide for a proposed diplomatic residential area and the construction of a double carriageway road on the developed site towards Victoria beach.

The total capital expenditure of the Board during last year was £1,572,000, the total revenue expenditure was £328,703, while the total revenue was £356,631.

LAGOS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

THE Lagos Chamber of Commerce, founded in 1888 and incorporated in 1950, has over 200 members, representing every section of commercial and industrial activity in the Federation. Approximately one-third of its membership consists of Nigerian business houses and personalities.

During 1959 the Ibadan Steering Committee of the Lagos Chamber of Commerce was formed into a fully independent Chamber for promoting the interests of commerce in Western Region of Nigeria.

The Association of Chambers of Commerce in Nigeria and the Southern Cameroons, of which the Lagos Chamber of Commerce is a member, was incorporated late in the past year.

The Principal aims and objects of the Chamber can be summarised as follows :-

1. The representation of general business interests throughout world markets; providing introduction to importers and exporters.

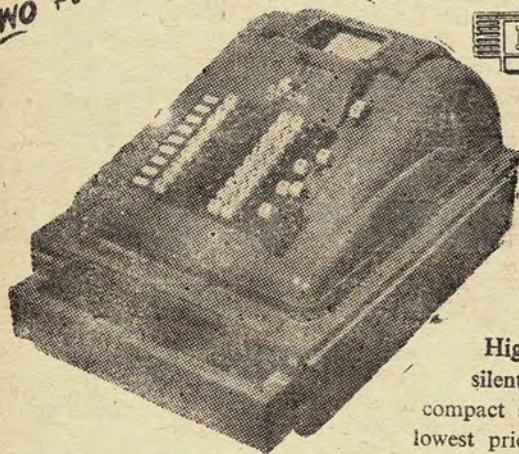

- 2: To give advice on general technical and constitutional development in the country.

3. To advise the Government on proposed legislation concerning commercial matters.

There are two regular publications—"Commerce in Nigeria", an annual distributed in the main through Chambers of Commerce overseas, and the "Quarterly Review" circulated in Nigeria itself. It is the means whereby the Chamber advises the public of its many activities in the interests of the community.

Nigerian Printing and Publishing Co.

THE Nigerian Printing and Publishing Company was established in 1925 by a group of prominent Nigerians and European members of the Lagos Chamber of Commerce.

Now the company produces two national papers — the Daily Times (audited circulation for December, 1959 — 110,424) and the Sunday Times — 136,530. It also produces a weekly magazine, the TV Times, and prints the weekly sporting paper, the Sporting Record.

Its associate company, the Times

Press, has recently moved into a modern up-to-date plant at Warehouse Road, Apapa. (Tel: 55507) and offers a very comprehensive service in commercial printing.

Orders for advertising can be placed at 3 Kakawa Street, Lagos.

Orders for commercial printing, block making, stereotypes and photographs can be placed at Phoenix Lane, (between Kakawa Street and Custom Street). (Telephone 20391 (Ext.33))

THE Trust Territory of British Cameroons has now virtually left the Federation of Nigeria administratively, even if Constitutionally it is still part of the Federation.

The events leading to this fundamental change began in September 1959 when political leaders of the Southern Cameroons reached agreement at the United Nations on the administrative separation of their Territory from the Federation on the attainment of independence by the latter in October this year (1960).

The United Nations endorsed this decision and further arranged for a plebiscite to be held in 1961 during which the people of Southern Cameroons would be given an opportunity to choose independence either with Nigerian or with French Cameroun Republic.

Three months later, in November, the people of Northern Cameroons (pop. 800,000) held a plebiscite and decided by 70,401 to 42,797 votes not to remain in Northern Nigeria when the Federation becomes independent this year (1960). They preferred to determine their future at a later date. Thus, administratively, Northern Cameroons, like its Southern counterpart, is also now virtually out of the Federation. What the political future of the whole trust territory will be remains obscure until after the coming plebiscites.

Meanwhile, Southern Cameroons, during 1959, secured an enlarged House of Assembly (26 Members) which was elected in January. The elections resulted in the coming to power of the Kamerun National Democratic Party, advocates of secession from Nigeria, and the defeat of the pro-Nigeria Alliance of the Kamerun National Congress and the Kamerun People's Party.

FUNDAMENTAL CHANGES

THE year, 1959, might not have been marked by any noticeable economic developments, but it certainly witnessed fundamental political changes which might affect the whole political future of the territory.

Early in the year, general elections were held to an enlarged House of Assembly, following the recommendations of the 1958 Constitutional Conference. These elections resulted in the coming to power of the Kamerun National Democratic Party—a vocal secessionist group led by Mr. J. N. Foncha, who consequently took over the Premiership from Dr. E. M. L. Endeley, parliamentary leader of the Kamerun National Congress/Kamerun People's Party alliance.

Shortly after the formation of the new government, both Mr. Foncha and Dr. Endeley were invited to the United Nations to tidy up outstanding questions in respect of a plebiscite which the United Nations hoped to conduct in the territory to ascertain the wishes of the people on their ultimate political future in the Federation of Nigeria.

After weeks of wrangling, agreement was reached between the two leaders as a result of which the plebiscite questions and its timing were fixed. The General Assembly of the UN also directed that the Territory should, in the meantime, be administratively severed from Nigeria on the attainment of independence by the latter on October 1, 1960.

Mr. Foncha, later in the year, enlarged his Cabinet from four to six Ministers and also appointed three Parliamentary Secretaries.

During the year, also, two of Southern Cameroons' neighbours took political decisions which produced mixed reactions within the territory—Northern Cameroons, in a UN-conducted plebiscite, opted out of Northern Nigeria, preferring to determine its political connections with an independent Nigeria at a later date. And on the eastern border, French Cameroun with which Mr. Foncha hopes to unify, gained independence from French trusteeship on January 1, 1960.

Cameroons Development Corporation

SIGNIFICANT changes in the statutory set-up of the Cameroons Development Corporation took place from January, 1960, following an agreement between the Southern Cameroons Government and the Colonial Development Corporation.

Under this agreement, the Colonial Development Corporation became managing agents of the Cameroons project and at the same time agreed to invest a total of £3 million, in two stages. The first stage will involve a loan of £1 million to the Cameroons Development Corporation, as at present constituted. At the end of 1961 the Cameroons Development Corporation will be constituted into a joint stock company following which the United Kingdom CDC will invest a further £2 million in the project. Equity holdings in the new company will be shared between the Southern Cameroons Government, the Federal Government of Nigeria, and the United Kingdom CDC.

In view of these significant changes, the Southern Cameroons Government has extended the period of leases held by the Cameroons Development Corporation on the 1st of January, 1960, for a period of 99 years.

Due largely to the increased incidence of banana disease, income from this crop, the mainstay of the corporation's revenue, has been greatly reduced in the past few years. And it is officially anticipated that the overall loss of revenue during 1959 will be of the order of £700,000.

1959 WAS A MEMORABLE YEAR

THE year 1959 was a great one in the political history of Northern Nigeria. It was the year in which the Region became self governing. It was the year also that a Northerner, Alhaji Umaru Gwandu was appointed Speaker of the Northern House of Assembly.

The one-week long celebrations to mark self-government were a fantastic spectacle. The occasion was graced with the presence of their Royal Highnesses, The Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, as representatives of the Queen, and 146 very important personalities from overseas including Mr. Alan Lennox-Boyd, the former Colonial Secretary.

The celebrations included an arts exhibition, traditional dances, a Durbar and other activities showing the achievements of the Region over the last fifty years.

Although no definite official figure was given for expenditure on the celebrations, it was known that well over half a million pounds was spent by the Regional Government to usher in a new era into the North.

The attraction of lump sum compensation, following the attainment of regional self rule did not adversely affect the Region, as the majority of expatriate officers chose to remain in the Regional Public Service.

Also in the year, the Kano Festival which vividly brought out the new from the old was successfully held in the renowned city of Kano. Perhaps, the highlight of the festival which lasted for four days was the Trade and Industry exhibition which was presented on an impressive scale.

The Regional Government continues to show a very keen interest in the industrial development of the Region. In this direction, Northern Developments (Nigeria) Limited with its registered office in Kaduna was founded. The company, which was formed with the Northern Region Development Corporation and the Colonial Development Corporation, will mainly concern itself with the thorough investigation and promotion of commercial projects for industrial and agricultural developments in the North. Its authorised capital is £1,250,000 out of which £500,000 was to be subscribed by the N.R.D.C. while the balance of £750,000 would be provided by the C.D.C.

Encouraging progress was steadily made during 1959 in the hydro-electric resources of the region. A syndicate has been established by the Regional Government in association with the Federal Government, the N.R.D.C., and a well-known United Kingdom company of sugar-cane producers to find out whether a sugar cane industry could be set up in the Region.

The search for limestone of good quality for making cement continues to receive the attention of the Government.

The Bornu Railway extension continues to develop, and towards the end of last year, at least, 20 miles of rail had been laid.

LIFE TRIUMPHANT MAGAZINE

PSYCHOLOGY MAGAZINE LTD.
(Dept. NYB.).
Marple, Cheshire, England.

Amidst the din and confusion of today's problems, anxieties and worries, PSYCHOLOGY stands as a mighty Rock of Support to thousands of men and women everywhere. It is a missionary of inspiration, of brotherhood and of service. Each month it sets forth the principles of victorious living and carries its dynamic message of Health, Happiness and Success to tens of thousands.

PSYCHOLOGY contains no heavy, dry receding; no mere theories or pet abstractions, but supplies a practical philosophy of life — a programme that really does help solve the vexing problems that confront and harass every life. It appeals to every human interest, yearning and need. The topics dealt with are matters with which all thinking men and women are vitally concerned. The Magazine's interest is life and how to live it triumphantly. PSYCHOLOGY throbs with human interest. It radiates hope. It rings with optimism. It is a clarion call of courage.

The Freedom Geographies for Nigeria

by W. A. Perkins, B.A., F.R.G.S.

Principal, Kings College, Lagos

BOOK ONE - OUR COUNTRY

This book is the first of a series being prepared specially for Nigerian Schools. The presentation is entirely new and the book is simply and lucidly written.

The book is in five parts. The home is used as a starting point, followed by journeys to typical parts of the Western Region and to Lagos, to the Eastern Region, to the Southern Cameroons, and to the Northern Region. Appropriately illustrated with pictures and maps.

Exercises are provided, and there is simple practical work. Children in the upper classes of the Primary School and lower classes of the Secondary School will find the text easy to read and understand.

Book One - 5s.

AN IMPORTANT YEAR

THE most important event in Western Nigeria was the announcement by the Minister of Economic Planning, Oba C. D. Akran, of a new five-year Development Plan with a total outlay of about £165m. Under this new plan, the Government hopes to continue a number of development programmes started under the 1955-60 Development Plan launched in 1955 and due to end in March this year.

The 1955-60 Development Plan, among other things, brought about Universal Primary Education, free medical treatment for children and the building and tarring of hundreds of miles of roads in the Region.

Several other important events combined to make 1959 a memorable year in the Region's history.

● In January, Chief F. R. A. Williams, then Regional Minister of Justice and Attorney-General, was sworn-in as one of the first two Nigerian Queen's Counsel at a ceremony in the Supreme Court, Lagos.

● In February, the number of Roman Catholic Bishops in the Region was increased by one following the consecration of Monsignor Richard Finni as Bishop of Ibadan. It was also during this month that Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, Prime Minister of Ghana, paid a three-day state visit to Ibadan.

● In March, the Region lost by death Chief A. O. Ogedengbe who was at the time Minister of Works and Transport. Mr. S. O. Sogbein was later appointed Minister of Works and Transport to succeed him.

● In April, the completion of the Region's law revision by Sir John Verity, former Chief Justice of Nigeria, was announced.

● In June, Sir Olumuyiwa Jibowu, Chief Justice of High Court of Western Nigeria, died. Later in the year, Mr. Justice R. Y. Hedges was appointed to succeed him. The Regional Government announced plans to establish twelve agricultural settlements.

● In July, the first batch of women police were posted to the Region and started work at Ibadan.

● In September, the report of the Western Region Constituency Delimitation Commission was published. It was announced during this month that oil has been found at Ughelli.

For the first time, Ibadan won the Nigeria Challenge Cup by beating Police in the final of the football competition played in Lagos on September 26.

● In November, the Regional Government's sponsored television-WNTV "First in Africa" went into operation.

● In December, Chief S. L. Akintola, Deputy leader of the Action Group was appointed Premier of the Region in succession to Chief Awolowo who won the election to the Federal House of Representatives.

HOUSING CORPORATION

THE Western Region Housing Corporation was established under the law "to increase the availability in the Region of dwelling houses for acquisition by members of the public."

The Corporation is fulfilling this part of its duties in two ways:

It is building houses of suitable design and sound construction at the cheapest price, on land leased to the Corporation by the Government and selling them to the general public. It is also granting loans to suitable persons by way of mortgage, who wish to erect houses on their own land.

In addition, the Corporation has been charged by the Regional Government with the duty of developing and managing industrial estates within the Region.

The Corporation has framed, and the Western Region Government has approved, a programme of site development and building construction up to April 1 1960; involving capital expenditure of £920,000 approximately £746,000 of which is being provided on loan by the Government.

At Bodija Estate in Ibadan, the Corporation is carrying out site development of approximately 400 acres including provision of utility services and is expected to build approximately 1,000 houses. Some of the houses have already been completed.

At Ikeja, the Corporation intends to carry out site development of approximately 700 acres which will include approximately 200 acres for industrial development.

The maximum term of leasehold between the Government and the Corporation is 99 years.

The Corporation consists of a Chairman and six other Members who are appointed by the Minister after obtaining the approval of the Government-in-Council. They are:-

Chief F. O. Awosika (Chairman).
Mr. Ajayi Akerele, Mr. B. F. Adinlewa, Mr. J. O. Oyewole, Chief M. F. Agidee, Mr. M. O. Onayemi and Dr. E. O. Awduche.

The Chief Officers of the Corporation are: Mr. R. E. Fitchett, General Manager; Mr. B. Funnell, Chief Estates Officer; Mr. F. A. Erinoso, Chief Accountant; Mr. A. M. Byrne, Head of Architecture and Engineering Branches; Mr. D. Adedunjo, Secretary and Legal Officer.

The officers of the Corporation are situated at Mokola Roundabout, Ibadan. The telephone number is 593. There is also a branch office at Ikeja.

DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

THE Western Nigeria Development Corporation, (formerly known as Western Nigeria Development Board), is one of the agencies of the Regional Government for the purpose of fostering the economic development of the Region by the promotion, establishment, operation or assistance of approved agricultural, industrial or commercial projects, in accordance with the provisions of the law establishing it.

In the past, the Corporation has received its funds in the form of development grants from the Marketing Board, but now obtains its funds from Government by way of loans with interest at the rate of five per cent.

The Corporation welcomes outside capital participation in agriculture and industry, subject to adequate safeguards, and the beneficial role which such participation can play in the economic development of the Region. In pursuance of this policy, it will be willing to consider all proposals from overseas investors which fall within its sphere of activity. The general role of the Corporation, therefore, can be defined as follows:

● The undertaking of those projects for which individual initiative and private capital are not forthcoming. In other words, such undertakings are meant to be complementary to, and not competitive with, private enterprises.

● The undertaking of those types of enterprise for which the minimum economic unit and the capital requirements are large.

● The attraction, as far as possible, of outside capital to these enterprises, subject to adequate safeguards.

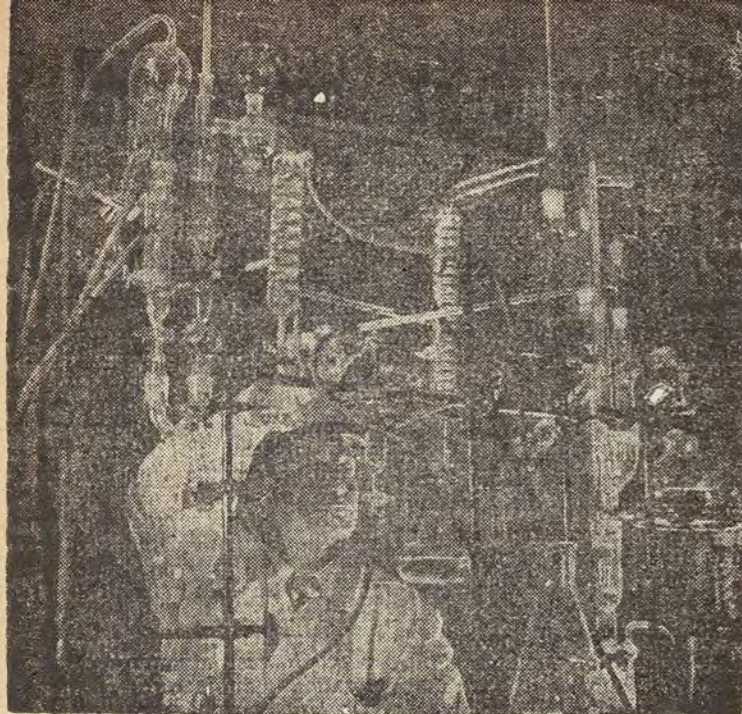

On the agricultural side, about £3,853,740 has been spent to date on plantations of various sizes, covering in all 28,774 acres and spread throughout the Region. The main crops planted are cocoa, oil palm, rubber, citrus, pine-apples and cashew nuts. In addition, a cattle ranch covering 26,170 acres has been established in the Upper Ogun.

The Corporation has already established a rubber processing factory at Benin, a fruit canning factory at Ibadan, and is responsible for the running of the Lafia Rest House, also at Ibadan.

In partnership with foreign commercial/industrial interests, the Corporation manufactures plastic materials for various uses, pre-stressed concrete for culverts, electric poles and bridge-making; steel windows and door-frames.

The present members of the Corporation are: Mr. Alfred Rewane (Chairman); Chief J. F. Odunjo, Mr. S. O. Lanlehin, Mr. B. O. Olushola, Chief T. A. Odutola, Alhaji S. O. Gbadamosi, Mr. M. G. Ejaife, Mr. T. L. Oyesina, Dr. V. A. Oyenuga and Mr. S. O. Shonibare.

The Senior Officials of the Board include Mr. Z. O. Okunoren (Secretary); Mr. R. Powell, (Chief Accountant); Mr. Z. A. Odunsi, (Chief Engineer); Chief B. O. Ogunniya, (Agricultural Manager); Mr. R. L. Claringbould, (New Projects and Industrial Manager), and Dr. J. O. Akerele, (Medical Officer).

THE PROGRESSIVE EAST

THE year 1959, without doubt has brought more progress and new ideals into Eastern Nigeria. It can be safely said that the Region had enjoyed more peace and many good things of life during the year than in any previous year.

The funds available to Eastern Nigeria for the year 1960 were far higher than the year before or indeed in any previous year. In pursuance of its 1958-1962 Development Programme the Government of Eastern Nigeria spent thousands of pounds during the year in construction and tarring of roads, installation of water supplies in the rural areas, opening of more health centres and improvement of the educational system in the Region. The year saw a steady growth of the Universal Primary Education in the Region when it was announced that the Government had extended the scheme to standard two from January 1960. The Region made another great stride in education when the Government started work on the University of Nigeria situated at Nsukka. It is hoped that the foundation students of the University will begin their higher studies on September 12, 1960.

As usual the Eastern Nigeria Government pursued its economic policy with much vigour and consequently the Region had many overseas visitors including German and American Trade Missions who are interested in investing in the region.

During the year £174,898 in shares in the Nigerian Cement Company Factory at Nkalagu, Eastern Nigeria, were made available to the Nigerian public who responded favourably.

Early in the year the Abakaliki Division was rid of Nwiboko Obodo, an influential Abakaliki Chief and head of the banned Odozi Obodo Society who was condemned to death by a High Court for the murder of his wife Nwagbo Igbeagu. It was known that the Odozi Obodo Society had been responsible for many murders in the area.

Official visits were made to the East by Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, Prime Minister of Ghana, and the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester. The 49-year-old Ghana Prime Minister who was on a twelve-day tour of Nigeria was given a warm welcome by Easterners when he arrived at Enugu on February 2.

The Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, after representing the Queen at the Northern Nigeria self-government celebrations, visited Enugu on May 24. They were accorded a reception befitting them.

In June the appointment was made of 12 Provincial Commissioners in accordance with the London Constitutional Conference. The Government also appointed first class chiefs with Chief Nyong Essien, former member for Uyo in the Regional legislature, as President, of the proposed Eastern House of Chiefs.

Eastern Nigeria lost by death Mr. R. O. Nzimiro, first Mayor of Port Harcourt, who died at Anua Catholic Hospital, Uyo, Frank Davies, Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Agriculture, and Chief Magistrate J. N. Odogwu.

Towards the end of the year, Dr. M. I. Okpara, Minister of Agriculture, assumed the post of Premier of the Region, following the election of Dr. Nnamdi Azikiwe to the new Nigerian House of Representatives. This resulted in certain cabinet changes.

Earlier, Mr. Justice Louis Mbanefo was appointed Chief Justice of the High Court of Eastern Nigeria. He thus became the first African to hold the post in the Region.

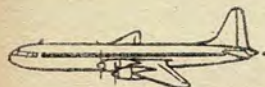

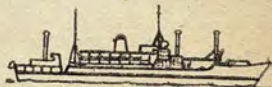

In sport, the Region made outstanding progress, and wrestling was introduced for the first time ever in the Region. Mr. John Chigbolu, onetime Nigerian Empire Games High jumper, was appointed a Sports Coach in addition to Mr. Dan Anyiam.

On the whole the year 1959 was a prosperous one for the people of Eastern Nigeria.

INCOME TAX

INCOME tax in Eastern Nigeria is assessed subject to the Eastern Region Finance Law, 1956 and payable in accordance with the rates set forth in the attached schedule:

- (a) upon income for each year of assessment of every male African person resident in the Eastern Region, who is above the age of sixteen years;
- (b) upon income for each year of assessment of any female African person who is a wage or salary earner resident within the Eastern Region, who earns wages or salary of more than £100 per annum and who is above the age of sixteen years;

- (c) upon the income for each year of assessment of any female African person residing in or carrying on business within the area of the authority of any of the Local Government Councils of Aba Calabar, Enugu, Onitsha, Port Harcourt and Umuahia, where such income exceeds £100 per annum and who is above the age of sixteen years.

Employers are liable to be appointed as tax collectors and to be directed to deduct tax from their employees' emoluments in accordance with a "Pay As You Earn" system.

SPORT: — SOCCER

WITHIN the last decade, the 1959 football season has been the best and most remarkable for Nigeria.

It was a great day when Nigeria was accepted as a participating country for the 1960 Olympic Games football competition.

A few months later, the Nigeria Football Association was invited by the Federation of International Football Associations (FIFA) to enter for the next World Cup competition to be held in 1962.

This world-wide recognition of Nigeria's soccer progress follows close on the heels of our participation for the first time ever in the Olympic Games series.

Nearer home, Nigeria being one of the sponsoring countries for a West African Soccer Federation, was offered suitable eminence on the governing body of the West African Soccer Association comprising ten other different West African countries.

The Council of the Nigeria Football Association proposed to organise a National league throughout the Federation, but this had to be shelved for a year due to the many difficulties involved.

One of these difficulties was that the NFA is run without any grant from the Federal Government. Another handicap was the dearth of coaches. The NFA is making efforts to obtain the services of a National Coach.

Our achievement were few: We beat the Fortuna Duesseldorf touring team in August, Ghana in the first leg of the Olympic Games soccer preliminaries and the Dahomey side in the preliminaries of Kwame Nkrumah Gold Cup West African Championships.

While there was a noticeable decline in the standard of soccer in the Federal Territory there was in contrast, a great deal of improvement in the Regions.

Most conspicuous progress was in the Western Region which for the first time, won the Challenge Cup Trophy.

Lagos, the Federal Territory, leads the other regions for the number of interesting matches arranged; consequently the Lagos Amateur-Football Association was brought from a insolvent state onto a sound financial footing.

The state of the financial affairs of the old LAFA was arrested by the firm and commendable dissolution of the body by the Council of the NFA in April as a result of an inquiry into the circumstance leading to the insolvency of the LAFA.

The Committee found that the financial affairs of LAFA in 1958 "were conducted in an extremely unsatisfactory and grossly negligent manner" for which the committee blamed an acting official and recommended the dissolution of the executive.

The caretaker committee realized a handsome net profit of £8,652 at the close of the season.

Like the Federal Capital, the West Regional Council of the NFA had its share of internal troubles which culminated in the refusal of the Council to renew the contract of Tesilimi Balogun, its assistant coach. Later, on April 14, the contract was renewed.

In the East, the Onitsha District Amateur Football Association and the Aba District Amateur Football Association clashed with the Regional Council of the NFA; again peace was restored.

Our National Team engaged in seven international games: against the German Club side, three times against Ghana, twice against Dahomey and once against Egypt.

We won four: Fortuna Duesseldorf 3-1; Ghana 3-1; Dahomey 1-0, and 10-1.

We lost three: twice to Ghana 1-4 and 2-5, and to Egypt 2-6.

About the severest of the reverses was the one suffered in Ghana on November 14 when Nigeria lost the Jalco Cup perpetually to Ghana.

For the first time ever, two Nigerians were given the opportunity to referee full international matches. They were Mr. B. J. Oni, who refereed the West African Football Championships between Dahomey and Ghana while Mr. Sannie Badru was accorded recognition by FIFA and admitted to the Neutral Referees Association. He refereed the match between Uganda and Sudan. Thus he becomes the first Nigerian to referee in the Olympic series.

INTERNATIONAL SOCCER

WITH the confidence of a giant killer side, Nigeria entered the soccer battle against Ghana, in the first round of the Olympic Football Competition in Lagos.

Nigeria proved superior to the "Black Star" group whom they beat 3-1.

The scores at half time were one goal each but it was in the second half, that Nigeria made manifest its superior skill, speed and stamina.

Onyeali scored two of the goals and Uwalaka one while Salisu scored Ghana's lone goal.

Ghana, brimful with determination set about the task of forming a more formidable side for the return match in the series which was to be played in Accra on October 25.

They took a surprise revenge when they defeated the "Red Devils" 4-1. They proved convincingly superior but the behaviour of the Ghana crowd left much to be desired.

Again, Ghana won on November 23 in the annual international match between the two countries for the Jalco Cup and the new £500 Independence Cup—donated by the NFA—when they beat Nigeria 5-2 at Accra.

Though played in bad weather Ghana proved a superior side.

Scorers for Ghana were: Baba Yara 2, Salisu, Charles Gyamfi and Acquah.

For Nigeria: Noquapor and Onyeali.

Prior, to the Jalco Cup competition, Nigeria beat Dahomey 1-0 in the West African Championships Zone "A" preliminaries.

Scorer: Onyeawuna.

In a return match played in Lagos on November 29, Nigeria beat Dahomey 10-1.

Scorers for Nigeria: Buraimoh 3, Onyeali 3, Onyeawuna 2, Okwudili and Fayemi.

Fagba scored for Dahomey.

An Egyptian National team which came to Nigeria for the third leg of the Olympic Games preliminary defeated Nigeria 6-2.

Scorers for Egypt: Hamdi 2, Raffat Attia 2, Ismail 2.

Scorer for Nigeria was Onyeali who scored both goals.

Three International matches tentatively arranged to take place between Nigeria and Las Palmas, Spanish Tenerife and Israeli Club sides were postponed due to the crowded schedule of matches at home.

NIGERIA v. FORTUNA

DUESSELDORF

THE goodwill tour of the Fortuna Duesseldorf team—a West German Club side—to Ghana and Nigeria in August more than anything helped to put Nigeria on the soccer map of the world, after the 3-1 spectacular win by Nigeria.

The fabulous German club side, which consisted of no fewer than seven professional international players met their Waterloo at the KGV Stadium, Onikan, following three victories during their tour of Ghana.

Arriving in Nigeria on August 15, they played their only match in Nigeria before a capacity crowd.

The friendly prestige match was full of thrills and excitement.

The Germans introducing a new brand of soccer—eight man attack system—were completely outplayed by the "Red Devils."

Fortune was not on the tourists' side although they initiated many wonderful and brilliant moves.

Nigeria scored first, in a breakthrough thrust after some panicky moments lasting twenty minutes, through Onyeawuna in the thirtieth minute. The architect of the goal was Onyeali who out-manoeuvred twenty-eight times capped skipper Fuskowiak.

Fortuna defence were completely overwhelmed and overworked by the incessant thrusts of the "Red Devils"

They conceded corner kicks to avert many a disaster.

In the thirty-seventh minute, Nigeria went further in the lead when Okwudili headed a flag kick which was taken by Noquapor to Uwalaka. He quickly drove in a volley which caught Gortz, the tourists' goalkeeper out of position.

Nigeria scored their third goal of the match in the thirteenth minute of the second half. Onyeali cashed in on a defensive lapse by centre-half Fuskowiak and skillfully lobbed the ball over the head of advancing goalkeeper Gortz.

Fortuna Duesseldorf scored their only goal of the match from a penalty when Nnando was penalized for handling.

The scorers for Nigeria were Onyeawuna, Uwalaka and Onyeali.

KWAME NKURMAH CUP

ON March 27 and 28, eighteen delegates representing ten national football associations met at Accra to draft the constitution of the West African Soccer Federation as well as the rules to govern the £1,000 Kwame Nkrumah Gold Cup.

The meeting was attended by delegates from: Dahomey Gambia, Ivory Coast, Nigeria, Portuguese Guinea, Republic of Guinea, Senegal, Togoland, Sierra Leone and Ghana.

It was resolved that competitions will be run on elimination rounds on a zonal basis to determine zonal Championships.

West Africa is divided into four zones for the purposes of the competition. They are:

ZONE "A": the Cameroons, Nigeria (zonal headquarters), Dahomey, Togoland and Fernando Po.

ZONE "B": Ghana (zonal headquarters), French Ivory Coast, Upper Volta and Niger.

ZONE "C": Liberia, Sierra Leone, Republic of Guinea (zonal headquarters) and Sudan.

ZONE "D": Portuguese Guinea, Senegal (zonal headquarters), Gambia and Cape Verde Island.

It will be an annual competition. A trial competition was held in Ghana whilst the real competition will be held in Nigeria during the Independence Day celebrations.

The current officers of the Federation are:

Dr. Kwame Nkrumah, Life Patron.

Mr. Kojo Botsio (Ghana), President.

Mr. Darby Allen (Nigeria), Vice-President

Mr. Rito Alcantara (Senegal), Vice President.

Mr. Ohene Djan (Ghana), Secretary/Treasurer.

Mr. Francois Amorin (Togoland), Zone "A" Representative.

Mr. Blehouet Jean (Ivory Coast), Zone "B" Representative.

Mr. Souman Sekou (Guinea), Zone "C" Representative.

Dr. George Sousa (Portuguese Guinea), Zone "D" Representative.

Messrs Kojo Botsio and Ohene Djan — Trustees.

NIGERIA CHALLENGE CUP

THE Nigerian Challenge Cup competition entries were an all time record. There were 38 entries from the West, 22 from the East, 16 from the North and 11 from Lagos.

Thirty six teams drew byes.

In 1957, it was Zaria, in 1958 Onitsha and in 1959, it was Ibadan, from the West, who astonished their opponents.

Ibadan subdued the fury of Sapele whom they beat by a lone goal in one of the most enjoyable thrillers in the series.

In the North, it was a great battle between Plateau and Zaria. Plateau beat Zaria 2-1.

In Lagos, the Police team surprisingly beat U.A.C. 4-2 in the finals after drawing 1-1 at the first meeting to represent the Federal Territory.

On Saturday, September 12, in the first semi-final, Police beat Plateau 4-3 after a Plateau player had been carried off the field before the end of the first half.

On September 19, Ibadan met Onitsha in the second National semi-final, Ibadan won 6-3 after extra time.

Skipper Okoh of Onitsha was brought down within five minutes with a fractured arm. At full time, the score was 3-3 but the Council of the NFA ordered extra time to be played.

Ibadan went on to beat the Police 2-1 in the finals after being one down before half time. Ibadan thus became the first team from the West to win the coveted Challenge Cup.

OTHER RESULTS

LAGOS XI defeated Ibadan Rovers 4-1 at the KGV Stadium in Lagos and repeated their victory with a 2-1 win at Ibadan in a return match in July.

The 1958 National Champion team — Port Harcourt — defeated a Lagos side 6-3 in a friendly challenge match played in Lagos.

King's College football team retained the Secondary Schools Trophy by defeating their closest rival — St. Gregory's College 2-1.

In the Primary Schools Cup competition, St. Matthias School won the Island section with a 2-1 victory over Ade Oshodi School. St. Paul's the mainland champions wrested the cup by defeating St. Matthias School 2-1.

The Daily Times Cup was won by the Ibadan Boys' Clubs team when they defeated Delta 4-2.

Lagos Ports Authority Football team won the Dove Shield from Port Harcourt Ports, last year's winners of the trophy.

Ibadan, this year's National champions defeated a Lagos side 4-2 in a friendly football match played at Ibadan.

OLYMPIC GAMES

NIGERIA is one of the 91 countries invited to take part in the 1960 Rome XVIIth Olympiad which will commence on August 25 and last until September 11. Out of these 91 countries, 80 nations are expected to send between 6,000 and 7,000 young men and women.

Already, 55 nations have accepted the invitation. This year's Olympiad is expected to be the biggest Olympiad since it was founded in Greece 2,736 years ago.

The thousands of athletes are expected to be accompanied by about 1,000 team officials, 1,000 judges, referees and time keepers.

About 250,000 spectators are expected at each of the eighteen days events.

A small town capable of housing 8,000 people for a short time is rapidly rising on the edge of Rome for the athletes.

Built entirely on concrete stilts, the Olympic Village will later become the home of 1,502 families of Italian Civil Servants.

The thousands of athletes who will be its first occupants will be fed at twelve restaurants which will be built in the neighbourhood.

The new town is within walking distance of the Olympic Swimming and Football Stadia and of the PALAZETTO DELLO SPORTS (the little Sports Palace), which will house the basketball and weightlifting events.

The eight acres Olympic Village, lying in an elbow of the River Tiber and below the wooded slopes of the Villa Clori, has been built by the Italian Government at a cost of 11,000 million lire (about £6,325,000).

Each team will be allocated a small fleet of Vespa Motor Scooters.

The only other motor vehicles allowed in the village will be the buses taking athletes to and from the stadia. Shops, meeting halls, lounges, bars, hairdressers' shops, infirmaries, travel agencies and post and telegraphs offices will be distributed round the village.

Four million tickets are being printed for some 250 different events.

The 785 hotels will offer 30,000 beds while a further 30,000 people are expected to find lodging in rooms in private homes and still another 30,000 on camping sites round Rome.

Russia topped the gold medal list by taking seven out of the 28 at stake, at the eighth Winter Olympics which took place in the United States in February 1960.

Next best was the combined German team, the largest contingent of all with 85 men and women competitors. They won four golds.

Other gold medals were fairly evenly distributed. Sweden, Norway and the United States won three each, and France and Austria one each.

WEST AFRICAN GAMES

THE Western Nigeria Government has agreed to organise the first West Africa Games as part of the Independence Celebrations. It will be the biggest sports festival ever attempted in Nigeria.

If other countries in West Africa support the idea, it is hoped these Games will become a miniature Olympic Games.

The limits of Western Nigeria sports organisations, leading Ibadan citizens and public spirited men will be stretched to the fullest.

Altogether sixteen nations — Senegal, Gambia, Portuguese Guinea, Republic of Guinea, Sierra Leone, Liberia, Ivory Coast, Upper Volta, Ghana, Togo, Dahomey, French Niger, Chad, French Cameroons, Spanish Guinea with Nigeria the sixteenth, will be invited by the Ministry of External Affairs of the Federal Government.

Swimming has been ruled out because the Ibadan baths do not conform to Olympic or Empire Games measurements and because there is no national swimming association to organise it.

Invitations are being issued on the basis that the entrants from visiting countries pay their fares to and from Ibadan but that Nigeria will provide accommodation, local transport and other facilities.

A games committee will control the venture and this committee will be made up from the chairman of all the committees which will be necessary, representatives of the various sports bodies, Government Ministries and other organisations likely to be involved.

The national sports organisations will take over the technical side of their individual sports and NOBECGA will be responsible for deciding the general rules of the competition.

WORLD CUP

COMING closely in the wake of the Olympic Games invitation was another invitation in July from FIFA for Nigeria to enter a team for the Jules Rimet World Cup tournament in Chile in 1962.

This is the greatest football competition in the world beside the Olympic tournament. The competition though run on similar lines to the Olympic Games allows the participation of professional players. The competition which first started in 1930, is played every four years.

Forty-four countries entered for the competition in 1958. The Trophy was won by Sweden.

The trophy presented to the World Cup winners is a gold cup known as the Jules Rimet Cup after Monsieur Jules Rimet, Honorary President of FIFA.

AMATEUR BOXING

AMATEUR boxing like any other sporting activity has become an important sport among the youth in Nigeria, and a large number of competitors entered for the ninth annual boxing tournament organised by the Lagos Amateur Boxing Association.

The tournament started in September with very few competitors turning up at the preliminary rounds. This was due to lateness on the part of the boxers who showed little or no interest.

Towards the end, it became very thrilling as top amateur boxers like Olu Laguda, Gilbert Osoba, Bassey Ukem, Love Muka, Karimu Young, Kid Hassan. Augustine Ugwu and Stephen Daklu earned applause from the fans.

There was no international boxing tournament during the year. This might be attributed to the fact that both the Nigeria Boxing Board of Control and the Ghana Boxing Association made very little effort to organise one.

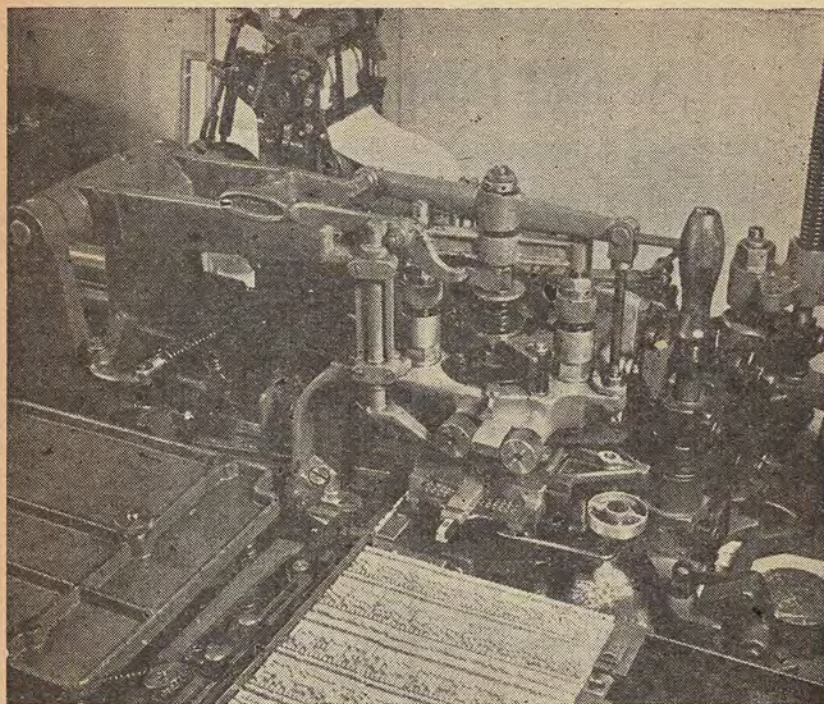

Both the Western Nigeria Council and the Nigeria Amateur Boxing Association deserve praise for their work during the year. Many competitions were held by these organisations which helped to improve the standard very considerably.

The Nigeria Amateur Boxing Association did a lot to improve the standard of boxing in the country.

Not much was heard from the Northern Nigeria during the year. This was due to a dearth of boxing promoters and trainers. There is no doubt conditions will improve in future as youths become more interested. There are good boxers in the North, but they suffered from inadequate facilities. The Northern Amateur Boxing Association is now becoming alive to its responsibilities in order to meet their colleagues in other Regions.

The amateur boxing tournament ended with three top amateur boxers winning trophies. They are Bassey Ukem, (featherweight), Christie Samuel (lightweight) and Kid Hassan (flyweight).

The final which took place at the Cool Cats Inn, Abulenla Road, E.B. was watched by an enthusiastic crowd. Another interesting show during the year was the tournament in honour of Mr. Jack Farnsworth on his arrival from U.K. The tournament was keenly contested by top amateur boxers both in the Lagos Island and the Mainland. Winners were presented with trophies at the end of the tournament. With the Olympic Games fast approaching, it is hoped that the Nigeria Boxing Board of Control will make arrangements to stage another national tournament to select boxers who will represent Nigeria in Rome.

ATHLETICS

THE year 1959 was not a very successful year as far as athletics is concerned.

The eleven-day lecture demonstration tour of American star athletes — Parry O'Brien, world record holder in shot put; Don Bragg, world indoor pole vault record holder; Ira Sylvester, Josh Culbreath, Bob Gardner and team coach Carl Olson — to this country in April did yield results of magnificent value.

Don Bragg set an All-Comers record of 14ft in the pole vault which helped Olotu to vault 13ft 1½ ins in the event; Parry O'Brien did 59 ft 1 in. and 170 ft 8 ins in the discus respectively whilst Agbamu did 47ft. 11ins. to set a native record; Fred Owusu clocked 1 min. 54.8 seconds in the 880 yds; Augustine Umerah threw 203 ft 1 ins in the javelin; S. Igun cleared 6 ft 9¼ ins in the high jump; A. K. Amu returned 21.5 and 47.9 secs in the 220 yds and 440 yds.

In the international athletic meeting held at the UAC Sports ground, Nigeria retained the Miller Challenge Cup for the fifth time with 140 points against Ghana's 115 while Sierra Leone scored 75 points

Mr. Peter Cook, President of NOBECGA and Chairman of the Lagos A.A.A. who left Nigeria on retirement recently is now back in Nigeria as manager of the National Stadium.

The Eastern Nigeria team won the Jolaoso Inter Regional Athletic Trophy with 130 points followed by the Federal team with 123 points.

The Jolaosho Trophy is perhaps the best known trophy apart from the Norwich Union Trophy. It stands two feet from its base, weighing 112 lbs. and is valued at £150.

Ninety two competitors from all over the Federation vied for this premier athletic trophy.

LAWN TENNIS

LAWN TENNIS has become a very popular game everywhere in Nigeria. The country is improving very considerably in this game. Some new Tennis Clubs were formed during the year and the standard of the players improved considerably. Lagos is undoubtedly the centre of attraction for this game.

A new competition was introduced by the newly-formed Lagos Amateur Lawn Tennis Association to keep the players in form during the off-season; unfortunately, players failed to turn up for this competition as they were busy preparing for the All-Nigeria and the Annual Lawn Tennis International match between Nigeria and Ghana.

The season started with the Air France Cup Handicaps which was won by a Swiss — U. Heim, after beating Willie Cole in two straight sets of 6-2, 6-3. He had earlier beaten Walter Obianwu in the quarter-final.

The African ladies' single tournament was not contested as only one competitor entered for the event. This was Miss Modupe Holloy, the reigning champion.

In the Colony Ladies' Singles Championship, Mrs. Mrs. Jill Starling repeated her last year's performance when she beat Mrs. Joyce Roberts in the final to win the trophy.

The Colony Junior Singles Championship went to a schoolboy, Christian Okwudibonye of St.

Gregory's College. Lagos, while the doubles went to Michael Effana and Bankole, both of the Yaba Trade Centre.

In the Colony Senior Men's singles Tournament, Walter Obianwu captured the trophy after beating Michael Ajayi in a long-drawn exciting match.

The Senior Men's doubles trophy was also won by Walter Obianwu and J. Hunt after dismissing Starling and Waters in two straight sets of 6-4, 6-4.

The All-Nigeria Championships were very exciting and drew a large crowd. The players were very enthusiastic and showed a keen sense of the game.

The Men's Singles Trophy went to Walter Obianwu after defeating Patrick Obi from the East. Siedel paired with Wirminghaus to win the doubles.

Mrs. Jill Starling captured the ladies' singles trophy and paired with Miss Elingham to win the doubles trophy.

The Annual International match between Nigeria and Ghana was very thrilling. A large crowd gathered every evening at the Lagos Lawn Tennis Club courts to watch the players. The highlight of the tournament was the singles match between Jose da Silva from Ghana and Walter Obianwu which the former finally won.

LAGOS RACE CLUB

GREAT improvements were noticed in the activities of the Lagos Race Club during the year 1959.

Prominent among these noticeable improvements was the erection of an electric photo finish which came into use in February, 1960.

The invasion of thoroughbreds like Volvo, Ara and Aramide brought a lot of controversy among race-goers.

At an emergency meeting of the Committee held later before the year ended, it was decided to ban these three non-local bred horses from further participation in the activities of the Club.

Nevertheless, a large number of Sudanese horses are being imported into the country to take part in the racing activities of the Lagos Race Club. The only measure taken by the Club so far against these Sudanese horses has been to create two special classes for them. They are now not allowed to run with the local bred horses. Prominent among these Sudanese horses in Lagos throughout the year were Tay-tell, Sultan, Cyclops, Ginger, Bride, Bridegroom, Creole Boy, Justy's Luck and Pandemonium.

The premier race of the year in Lagos was the Governor-General's Cup over a distance of 10 furlongs. This important race carrying a prize money of £700 for the 1st, £200 for the second, and £100 for the third was won by Mrs. Ibidun Lawson's Aiye ridden by Jockey Momo Ali in the good time of 2 min. 22 secs. Chief Oladipo 2 min. 33 seconds. Chief Oladipo Moore's Lakesi ridden by Jockey Nii Wesley was second and Conqueror owned by Messrs M. E. K. Roberts and F. Aboud ridden by Jockey Alasan Ibrahim came third.

Other trophies competed for during the year were: Jubilee Cup (Nine furlongs) won by Captain Miller's Top Secret; Derby Cup (12 furlongs) won by Sultan owned by Messrs Jackie Phillips and Partner; Coronation Cup (10 furlongs) also won by Sultan; Rossek's Cup (10 furlongs) won by Aiye; Omololu's Cup (Six furlongs) won by Aiye; Awoowo's Bowl (12 furlongs) won by Volvo and Otunba Payne's Gold Cup (10 furlongs) also won by thoroughbred Volvo.

Racing as a sport also played an important role in provincial towns like Abeokuta and Ibadan though the competitions in these place were poor. Unless the courses of Abeokuta and Ibadan Turf Clubs are greatly improved, racing there will continue to be poorly attended.

To get entries for the competition in Abeokuta and Ibadan, the organisers of racing had to persuade Lagos horse owners, who at times felt reluctant to send their horses there to run. The prize money in these places continues to remain unattractive.

In the North, Zaria, continue as the racing centre while meetings were held in Kano, Kaduna, etc.

TABLE TENNIS

SCHOOLBOYS continue to feature prominently in both local and national table tennis competitions.

For the first time also, an official branch of the Nigerian Table Tennis Association was formed in the North with the headquarters at Kaduna.

But more than anything else in the prompting of enthusiasm amongst players and table tennis fans was the visit of the World Table Tennis Champion Victor Barna and his partner, Alec Brook, to the Regions and Lagos in January.

Faji Olympiads won the Red Cross meeting; Jibril Martins became the year's Christmas Table Tennis Champion by beating I. Kosoko on December 26.

Eko Boys' High School won the Jack Farnsworth Cup for the second time when they beat Methodist Boys' High School.

M. Alagbala, many times National Champion since 1953 emerged again as the year's National Champion by beating H. Jamougha 21-11, 21-14 in the final, played at the Methodist Boys' High School.

At the same venue, Mulikat Shashore beat Mabel Imoukhuede to win the national ladies title.

Nigeria retained the Dr. Azikiwe Cup for the third time in the triangular meeting at Freetown when they beat Ghana 5-3 in the final after the latter had eliminated Sierra Leone in the preliminary round.

HOCKEY

HOCKEY continued to make steady progress throughout the season.

In February, the Federation moved forward by organising official regional headquarters at Ibadan, Enugu and Kaduna.

The Martini cup for the Lagos and District Hockey knock-out competition was won by the Ports' Hockey Club.

Pioneers' Club, which was formed during the year, won the six-a-side knockout competition.

The Western Regional team won the Inter-regional competition at Ibadan.

Nigeria held Ghana to a 2-2 draw in the eighth annual International match for the U.A.C. Cup played at Ibadan.

Before the International Match, the Ghana team played three matches, drawing 2-2 with Combined Services in Lagos, beating the Eastern Regional 2-0 and drawing 2-2 again with the Western Regional team.

Women's hockey took a lively turn, especially in Lagos with the formation of the Lagos Women's Hockey Club. The club took part in the six-a-side knock-out competition.
